CLASSROOM NEWS

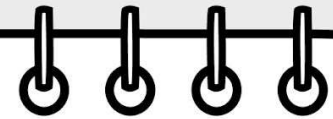

Happy Valentine's Day!

All are welcome to attend our class Valentine's party at 1:45 p.m. tomorrow. I apologize for the late notice. Students are welcome to give out Valentines if they bring one for everyone in the class. I am including class names below.

Chromebooks and Headphones

As a reminder, students need to charge their Chromebooks each evening. We use Chromebooks throughout our day, but there are not enough outlets in our classroom for students to use while working. Also, several students have lost or are missing their headphones. I asked those students to let their parents know. If replacing headphones is a financial hardship, please let me know.
