AR Goal Met

We are starting another 9 weeks of AR. Your child will receive a different AR Level. I had some feedback about the AR sheet in students' folders. I am going to change the way I update their AR progress. Instead of that paper, I will be printing off and sending home their updated accuracy, points, and the books they have read. I will be sending these home on Mondays. This Monday, you will not receive one because no student will have taken a test. You will get their first AR progress sheet next Monday on Nov. 26.
