End of Term

I am working on grading end of term work. . I will be talking to your student about any missing work in the next few days.

Please encourage your child to complete their AR reading before the end of the week. This will be used to calculate their final ELA grade. Reading comprehension is best taught by doing.

We will not have a spelling test this week.

Classroom Requests

- Students would like to share pictures of their pets. Please email pictures to my email so we can share with the class.
- Students have made requests for my attendance at their extra-curricular activities, please feel free to share schedules with me and I will be happy to see what I can do.

Note from Mrs. Richardson

Can you believe we are already completing the first term? This year has been fairly fast and busy for our 4th grade class. I have had the opportunity to meet many of you, while I still look forward to meeting others during upcoming classroom events and parent-teacher conferences. I appreciate the patience you have extended to me as I have navigating this new school year.

After break we will be completing our first iLearn checkpoints. Your students have been working hard in preparation. I can already see their growth despite any test results. As a reminder tests are one measure, but they are not the only measure.

I hope that you all have a restful Fall Break as we look forward to the upcoming holiday season and the second half of this first semester.

To know and live our faith. To lead and serve by example. To achieve success as life-long learners.
