Reminders

- Students are welcome to bring in Valentines for their classmates. They do not need to put student names on the cards - only their name.
- Please see the IREAD letter in Monday Folders today for additional information about this important test.
- If your child has a planned absence coming up, please let us know ahead of time if possible.
- Spelling words will continue to get more difficult. Students who might not have needed to study in the past might need extra study time as we move forward.
- For those who haven't donated yet, we are still collecting items for our Indiana University auction basket through the end of this month. The QR code to the left has an Amazon Wish List with item ideas.
